

Nature Foundation SA Inc.

is South Australia's own wildlife and environment charity. We work with scientists, the community, business and governments to conserve our precious natural biodiversity.

And we've been doing it for 25 years.

We're a non-political, mainly voluntary organisation governed by a council of experienced conservationists, scientists, business and professional people.

We actively promote good environmental practice and foster community understanding of the value of our natural heritage and the importance of conservation - now and for the future.

As proud as we are of our achievements in the past, the inescapable fact is that our work and our funds are needed more than ever today.

Each day in South Australia, we move closer to losing another species of bird, mammal or plant. Each day irreplaceable native bushland continues to be threatened.

Help us
Help nature

Your bequest to Nature Foundation SA will help our natural environment live on sustainably.

By including Nature Foundation SA Inc. in your Will you will help continue the Foundation's valuable work of preserving and enhancing South Australia's native bushland and wildlife.

Many people see this as their lasting memorial and opportunity to protect our native flora and fauna. A bequest would provide that important help after your death, which was not possible to provide during your lifetime.

Your Will

After providing for family and friends, we would like you to consider making a gift to assist the work of the Foundation. To do this, you should prepare a new Will or make a codicil (an addition) to your current Will. You should seek professional advice to do this and the Foundation can help you locate solicitors who can assist.

A bequest may be of a specific sum of money, a proportion of your estate, or you may identify specific items such as property, bushland or stocks and shares you wish to leave to the Foundation, which would be pleased to assist you with the appropriate form of words to include in your will.

Acknowledgement of your thoughtfulness will be recognised in various ways by the Foundation. Please contact us to discuss any specific requests you may have in this regard.

Just some of the ways we're helping nature ...

Establishing Bushbank SA - a $1.5 million 'revolving' fund through which we purchase, protect and on-sell private land with significant conservation value to appropriate new owners.

Endangered species research and protection for species such as the Bilby, the Glossy Black Cockatoo, Southern Emu Wren, Yellow-footed Rock Wallaby, freshwater fish, threatened plants of Eyre Peninsula and many more.

Supporting conservationists of the future through post-graduate scholarships at the three SA universities.

Para Woodland - a 10 year, $1.2m project to begin reclaiming wildlife habitats on former agricultural land.

Feral animal eradication programs and the subsequent successful release of native animals - like the Brush-tailed Bettong on Eyre Peninsula.

Raising funds to buy land for nature conservation.
